

DESTINATION WEDDINGS GO TO NEW HEIGHTS Private Jet Services Group Specializes in Destination Celebrations

Super-sized Jets, Mile-High Concierge Service and More

March 2005 (North Hampton, NH) – “Destination Weddings” are a growing trend, by some estimates accounting for 10%* of the nearly $120 billion industry. Even the most affluent couples seek value-priced alternatives to bring scores of family and friends to exotic and sometimes remote locales, turning to companies like Private Jet Services Group for first-class travel solutions for large parties.

Private Jet Services Group offers larger parties unparalleled luxury, value and convenience compared to commercial flights. Private Jet Services Group uses full-sized, VIP-configured airliners that have been redesigned to look and feel like exceptionally spacious, luxury private jets. These super-sized jets can accommodate up to 106 passengers on one flight in all first class cabins complete with lounge areas that are perfect for entertaining.

“The concept of ‘weddingmoons,’ in which couples combine a wedding with their honeymoon inviting family and friends for an extended celebration, has been around for years but is hotter than ever today,” said Greg Raiff, president of Private Jet Services Group. “Without the usual hassles of airport lines and baggage check-in, clients have told us that they start relaxing and the wedding celebration starts the moment they board. Better yet, our brides never have to worry about how to travel with their wedding dresses!” he continued.

Mile High Concierge

Private Jet Services Group understands the special needs associated with the planning of a destination wedding and the kind of service discriminating clients demand. Beyond providing travel solutions, Private Jet Services Group offers clients the “Mile High Concierge” service that serves as the extension of the wedding planner. Working directly with the bride and groom, wedding planner and the destination resort, the Mile High Concierge facilitates each detail of the journey such as scheduling transportation to the airport, overseeing luggage transfers and managing special gourmet catering requests to accommodate special themes and discriminating tastes.

Super-Sized Jets

Private Jet Services Group utilizes some of the most unique aircraft which are configured to include private staterooms with queen beds and full bathrooms with showers that can serve as a luxury bridal suite. With door-to-door accessibility, quality catering and the convenience of personal scheduling, the bride and groom and all of their family and friends are guaranteed to arrive at the destination rested and ready to celebrate.

Since its official launch in the summer of 2003, Private Jet Services Group has defined a niche in air travel to meet the demands of the most discriminating clients who expect exacting performance and professional service. PJS Group custom tailors travel itineraries to individual needs and can arrange for VIP-aircraft to be positioned anywhere on the globe. Catering exclusively to the “luxury leisure,” “destination celebrations” and corporate meetings market, PJS Group fulfills the special needs for these distinctive journeys and exceeds travelers’ expectations.
